What's On

June 2022

Dear <<First Name>>,

Welcome to the June newsletter. As we near the midpoint of 2022, thank you for your part in sharing our journey during yet another turbulent year. We hope you are all safe and well.

In this newsletter you'll read about our upcoming show 'Stardust + The Mission' - an incredible performance of two true Australian stories, which we are presenting at the Williams Memorial Hall. It's new territory for us to branch out into the district in this way, and if there's ever been a time when we need your utmost support, it is now. We encourage you to book a free bus seat if driving at night presents a barrier to your attendance - we are offering free buses from Narrogin, Pingelly and Wagin.

You'll also find links to book tickets to Narrogin Repertory Club's latest production Dying To Meet You, along with some information on membership renewals and end of financial year donations.

A warm welcome to our newest members! Your ongoing support enables us to continue applying for grants to bring more amazing, high quality and diverse productions to our district.

STARDUST tells the story of bandleader and trumpet player, Col Brain. Before he died, Col placed his most prized life possessions into a cupboard and locked it up, never to be opened again. But what was inside? Told through the eyes of his grandson – award winning ABC presenter & performer, Joel Carnegie – herein lies the discovery of a time capsule of Australian musical life, in a heart-warming quest to uncover what Col wanted us to know about his life by the things he left behind.

THE MISSION follows the journey of “Fighting Gunditjmarra” man, Allan McDonald – one of the first Aboriginal soldiers from Victoria to enlist for war. He fought at Gallipoli and Beersheba, only to be denied a soldier’s settlement on his ultimate return to Australia and forced from his land at the Lake Condah Mission. This captivating and rollicking story, told by his great, great nephew, Gunditjmarra man Tom Molyneux, tells the truth of Uncle Allan’s struggle; fighting for Country, for love, and for justice.

DYING TO MEET YOU

BY RON HUSTON

Narrogin Repertory Club presents Dying to Meet You

9, 10, 11, 16, 17, 18 June (Thursday, Friday, Saturday nights)

Doors open 7pm | Curtains open 7.30pm

Sunday Matinee – 12 June

Doors open 1:30pm | Curtains open 2pm

Richard and Barbara are a married couple whose lives are a bit humdrum now that their two children have left home. Their neighbours, Tom and Beryl, are on good terms with them and the trouble starts when Tom suggests to Richard a way of making money by renting out their spare room. He does so without telling Barbara, to a young man.

Barbara does something similar by renting the other room to a young Italian girl with little English. Richard does his best to hide the fact that the young man is an undertaker, which leads to all sorts of problems as the young girl, Gina, gets friendly with the undertaker, Clive. Beryl is convinced that Clive is an acting director and, as she once acted, she would like to get back on stage.

Add to this mix an Inspector of Taxes and a mysterious uncle of Gina's who has links with the Mafia. All are trying to come to terms with living with an undertaker and being in danger from the Mafia, whilst avoiding being charged more tax for renting out a room as extra income.
